Gigi's '90s Glam

For Daily Front Row's Fashion Los Angeles Awards in LA, Gigi Hadid gave brown lipstick a new heyday, making it look better than ever! Her makeup artist Patrick Ta says the It Girl needs little makeup to stun: "Applying too much makeup on [Gigi's] face is a crime!"

Ta prepped Gigi's face with a layer of thick moisturizer to help makeup lay beautifully on the skin. Then, for an extra-flawless effect and glow, he smoothed on Maybelline New York's Face Studio Master Prime in Blur + Illuminate.

"Gigi wanted her eyes to look bright and open," says Ta, who brushed the light beige tone from Maybelline New York's The Blushed Nudes Palette all over and smudged the champagne shade in the creases for shading.

For a stay-all-day matte finish, Maybelline New York's Color Sensational Lip Liner in Toast was used to line and fill Gigi's lips.

Taylor Swift's Transformation:

From Soft Blond to Edgy Platinum

Taylor's bright blond "looks more adventurous," says Aura Friedman, celebrity hair colorist and b3 Brazilian Bond Builder brand loyalist. "It gives her a little bit more of a rock 'n' roll vibe. Plus, it enhances her skin tone and doesn't wash her out."

The Ticket to Glowing Skin

Why can't celebrity makeup artist Joyce Bonelli get enough of the Cocoa Brown by Marissa Carter Golden Goddess oil? "[Because] it's the perfect highlighter and skin finisher!" says Bonelli, who works with the Kardashian and Jenner sisters. "I apply it on the cheekbones, the bridge of the nose and on the lips for extra sparkle."
